Comments:

5. Are documents available for download in a searchable text format?

Examples of searchable text formats include plain text documents, HTML, XML, and certain PDFs that are created with readable text. If a PDF was created from a scanned image with OCR (optical character recognition) applied, then select "PARTIAL" as text may not always be converted correctly.

This question refers only to the content of the document which can be represented as text. Do not consider images or figures in your answer. If a document has both images and text, answer "Yes" if all the text elements are searchable.

	YES	NO	PARTIAL (some text elements not searchable)
Published applications		X
Granted patents		X
Amendments, corrections, or other documents with updates		X
File history

Comments:

6.

Are updated versions of patent documents available online when changes are made after publication (e.g. "as granted" rather than "as filed")?

NO

If yes, please explain how updated documents are presented in search results (e.g. with updated kind codes according to WIPO ST.50).

7. Which parts of patent documents are updated online after publication? Mark all that apply.

Front page/ first page only

Claims

Comments:

19. What kind of interface do users have to access your online systems for the available types of patent documents? For example, for published patent applications, granted patents, patent term extensions, fee payments.

All information can be accessed through a single web page or portal

Comments:

20. Do your online systems use the same web pages or portals for different types of industrial property rights provided by your Office? For example, patents for inventions, plant patents, design patents, inventors' certificates, utility certificates, utility models, patents of addition and others. Answer yes here even if there are multiple web pages or portals for different types of documents (application, legal status history, assignments, etc), as long as each type of IP right is available on the same web page or portal.

Note- this question is about different types of IP rights. Question 17 is about different types of patent documents.

YES

Comments:

21. If there are separate websites or portals for these other types of industrial property provided by your Office, please list them.

22. Do your online systems contain information on documents issued under international or regional IP protection systems, which have (potential) effect in your jurisdiction?

YES

Comments: Regional IP protection system
